SANTA ANA SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA

dedication . . .

He is gone now, but he will be back;
Sammy Saint has gone to war.
Sammy left our hallowed halls,
Our Andrews gym, our Clayton field,
The Senior Proms, the Color Days,
Turning in his S. A. hi
For olive drab or navy blue.
Sammy Saint has gone to war.
Gone to stem that yellow locust.
More will go, still more will follow,
All to halt the hate of war,
So men can live, and love, and work,
So each can have a home for sure,
For always and forever.
Sammy Saint has gone to war.
The war god Mars may keep some boys
On foreign fields in lines of crosses,
But those whose lives are spared
Will once more be home at last
To gaze again on S. A. hi,
And say with pride and joy,
"I'm home, and home is still the same."
But Sammy has made some plans
So those who are to come
Must not be forced to go again,
And fight and die for those of might
Sammy Saint has gone to war.
The torch of freedom will up be held
To guide the ways of all mankind,
So they can live and work in peace,
Not as the vulture, but as the human.
For this:
Sammy Saint has gone to war.

PEOPLE

Directing the entire school system of Santa Ana is the responsible job of Superintendent Frank A. Henderson. To him, along with the school board, is given the problem of maintaining an efficient faculty, which has been extremely difficult in this time of manpower shortages. This year, more than ever, he has given the students his full support and has shown an active interest in Santa Ana Senior High School. Mr. Henderson is the sincere friend of the student body and a diligent worker in its behalf.

Mr. Frank A. Henderson

Mr. Lynn H. Crawford

The man who holds the position of executive over all administrative activities and who attends to the business matters of the school is Principal Lynn H. Crawford. The students will remember laughing at his jokes or listening eagerly to his more formal addresses, for he has a sense of humor as well as a more serious side. He spends much time giving personal guidance to students and extensively studying their special war time problems.

Mr. Robert S. Farrar

Miss Helen Kirkland

Vice-principal Mr. Robert S. Farrar and Girl's Vice-Principal Miss Helen Kirkland are two of the most popular officers in the administration. Both will be remembered for the valuable help and advice they have given to the students.

Mr. Farrar fills a very important position, not only as assistant to Mr. Crawford, but also as the energetic director of assemblies and adviser to the Board of Control. Much of his time is taken in personal council with students and in the enforcement of school laws.

Miss Kirkland, besides directing the registration of all girls, assists them in deciding what course of study to follow. Her work in this crucial year is of the utmost importance, in that she acquaints girls with the rapidly expanding field of occupations open to them, helping many to find employment.

Jim Davy

Bill Davis

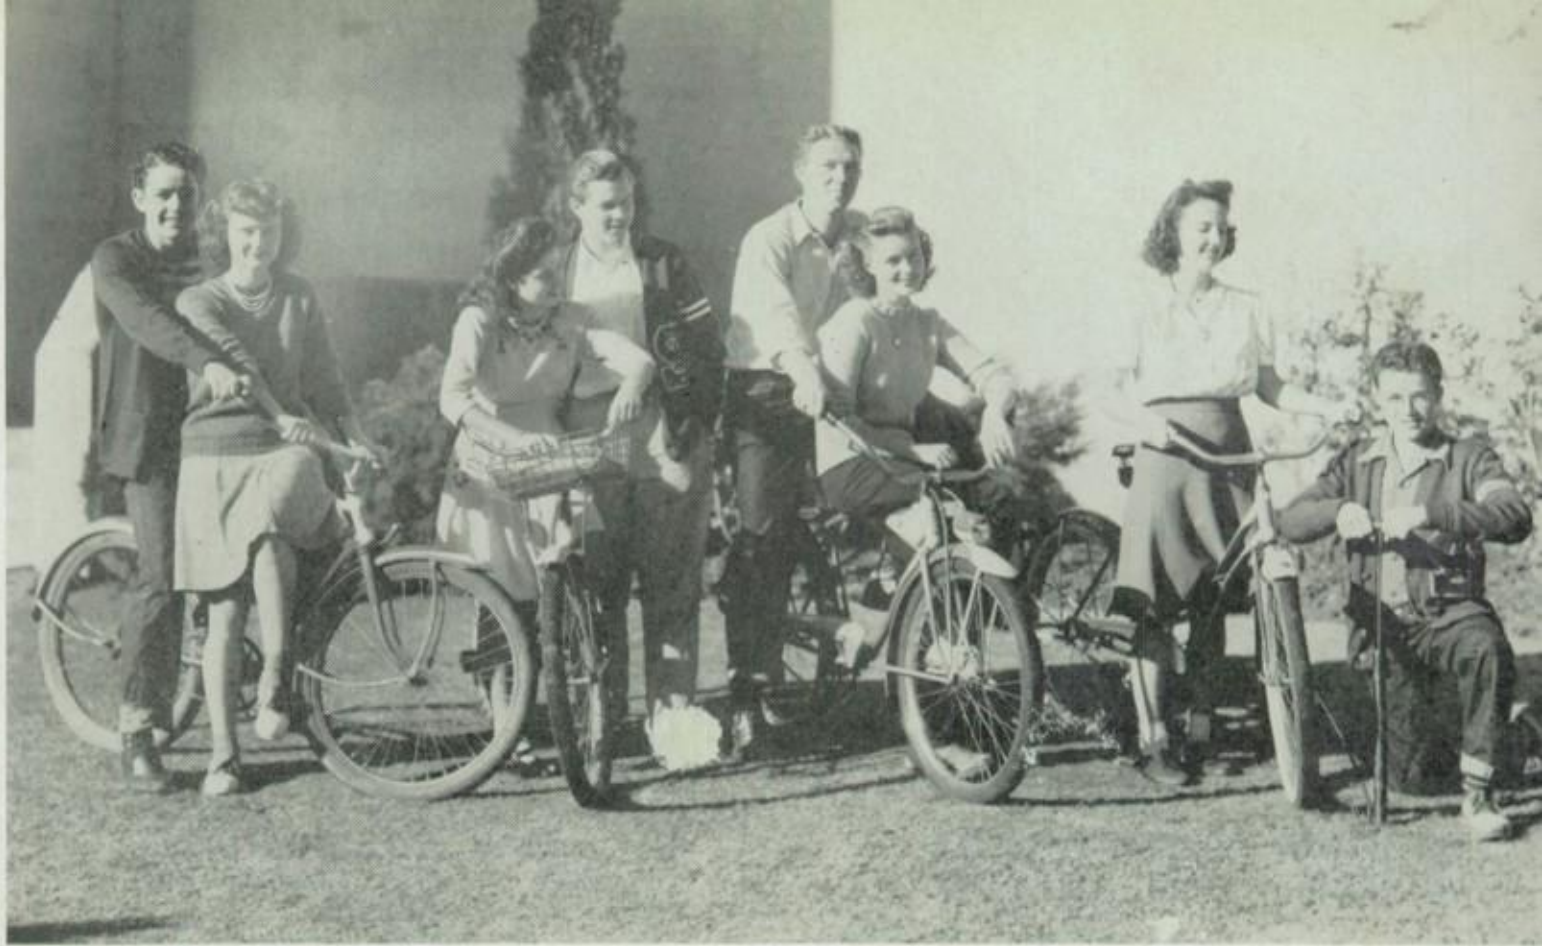

Student Body Presidents

Saints were indeed proud of the leaders this year. Bill Davis and Jim Davy were two of the most capable student officials of recent years. Great difficulties had to be surmounted because of war time limitations, but Bill and Jim came through with flying colors. Bill was top man during the first semester, and Jim, the second.

The Santa Ana tradition of fine leaders was upheld this year, and the Saint presidents led the students in all activities.

Self-Government Committee

Under the directorship of the two chairmen John Francis and Bob Harbaugh, the 1942-43 Self-Government Committees carried out several campaigns, which added considerably to the year's propitious administration. Chief among these were efforts to control bicycle traffic, and frequent check-ups to prevent mistreatment of lockers. The welfare of each student was always kept in mind. The committees endeavored to work for everyone and with everyone.

Gloria Kiser, Terry Ragan, Ruth Cowdrey, Bob Ball, Jackie Munson, John Francis, Maria Urquiza, Jimmy Mercier

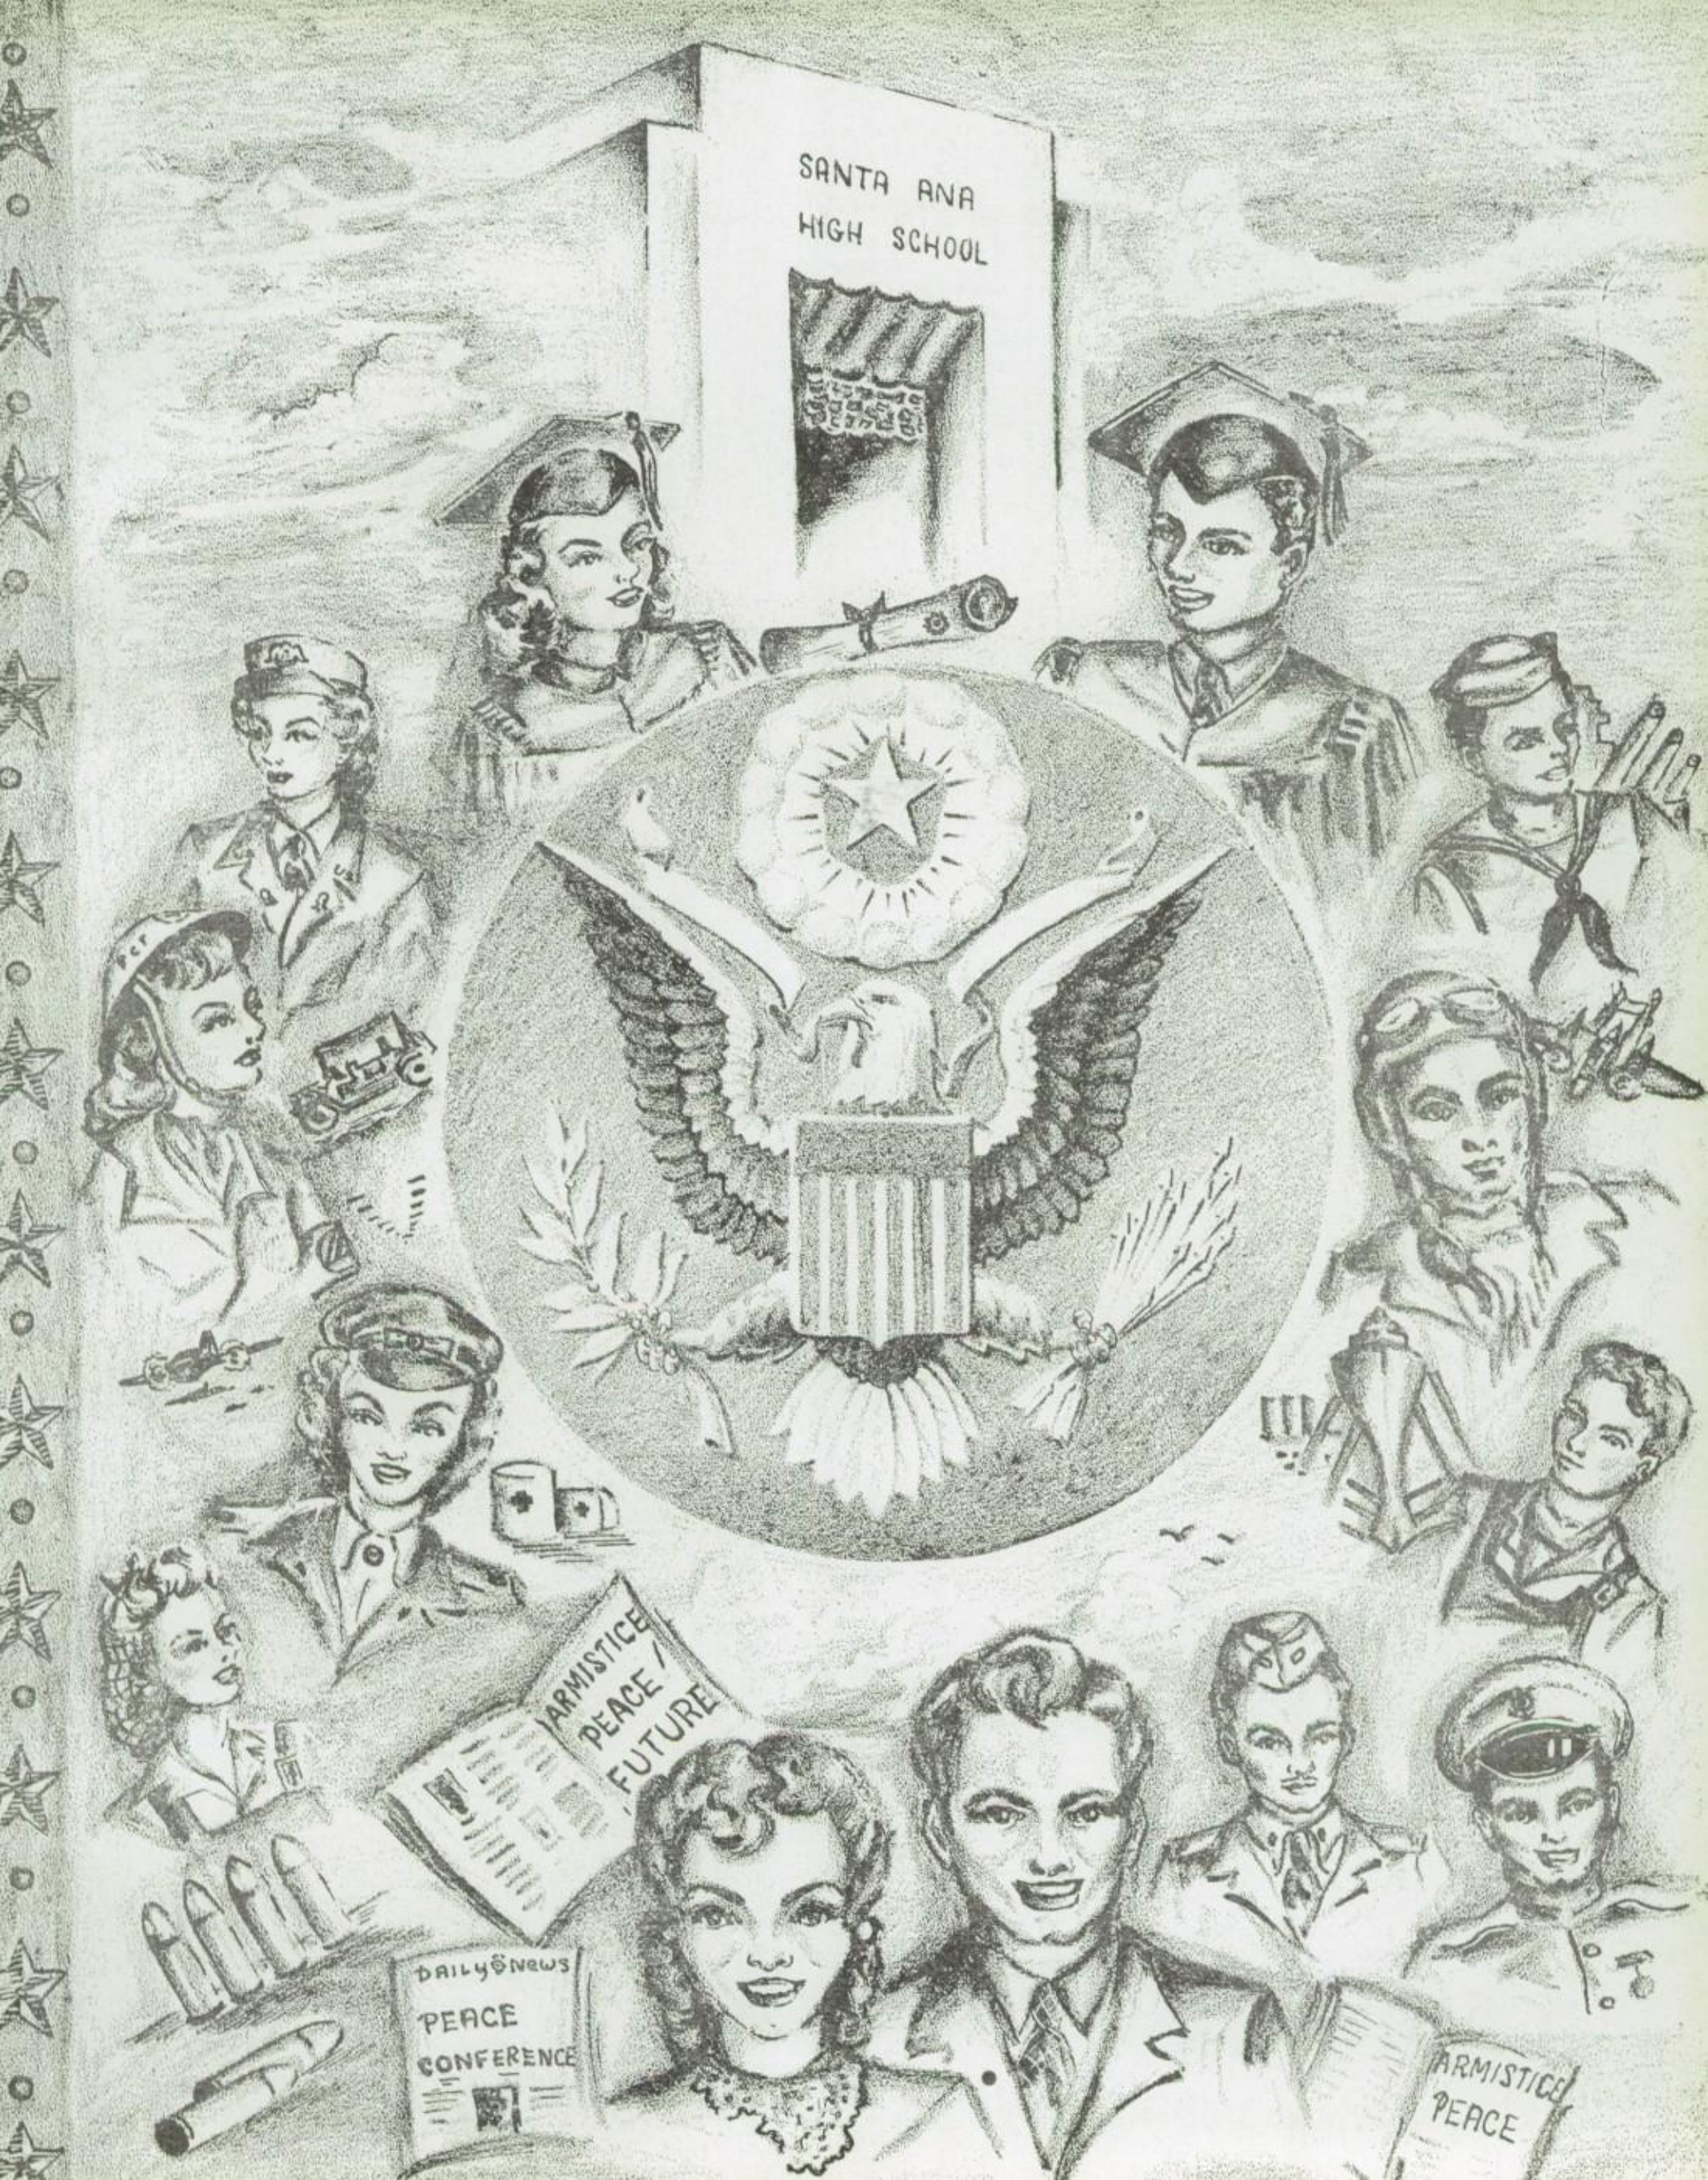

First row: J. Francis, E. Herzig, P. Roberts, B. Simmons, D. Hamilton, J. Robinson, M. Ball, J. Kenyon, V. Osborne, P. Tapscott, M. Urquiza, N. Standring. Second row: Miss M. Bissell, adviser, C. Telef, J. Morse, R. Brown, C. Winkler, P. Klever, B. Thompson, D. Sell, J. Munson, G. Kiser, K. Tiernan, H. Blee, J. Harris, Miss Bradley, adviser.

Girls' League Cabinet

With every girl in school a member of the Girls' League, the organization got under way this year with the Annual Big Sister Tea with the cooperation of the Entre Nous. Under the able leadership of Holly Blee and Joy Harris, the League undertook many worthy projects. The Cabinet sponsored a Christmas party, and the gifts received from this party were given to the Norco Naval Hospital. The closing feature of the year was the traditional Co-ed Dance; it was one of the most successful in years.

CLASSES

Senior Class

The ambitious class of '43 managed to come through with a full program of activities from September to June. The shadow of war added a touch of grimness to the scene, and hard studying, encouraged by the seriousness of the times, produced large number of honor students. Already, members of the class have left school to go to war, and many more will join them after graduation. The fun of leading the school belongs to the seniors; this class had an interesting time of it. These three years together have been years of enthusiasm and of new and exciting experiences.

Sitting: Dave Nielsen, Vice-president first semester; Ethel Mae Hazen, Secretary second semester; Sterling Gordon, Secretary, first semester. Standing: Wayne Herzig, Vice-president second semester; Mr. John Johnson, adviser.

Presidents: Dick Chase, first semester; Dick Reid, second semester.

RUTH B.
ACTKINSON

Soothing weary brows of unfortunate humanity, athletic usherette Ruth is furrowing on toward a nursing career.

RICHARD L.
ALLEN

Dick, an Owl, plans to become an aeronautical engineer. He takes a mathematics course for engineering school.

BILL ALLISON

Bill Allison, Saint football manager, is taking a commercial course but will enter the navy after graduation.

JOHN ROGER ANDERSON

Ariel Business Manager "Andy" also makes his way to Biology Club meetings if the commerce angle is not too pressing.

MILDRED ARBORN

The University of Southern California will help Millie, of Commerce Club, on her way to a stenographic career.

HARRY FOSTER
ARMSTRONG

With industrial arts as his past, present, and probable future, Harry doesn't know what gives after graduation.

HOWARD EDWARD ARMSTRONG

To be a research chemist is "Howie's" ambition. He expects to work in industrial arts after high school.

ELIZABETH ARNOLD

Ibby "the perfect secretary" Arnold, Wi Tama Pi, enters J.C. in September to add final polish to her technique.

NONA LOUISE ASHBY

"Tuta's" training to teach. In fact, teaching is more inspirational than commercial majors.

HELEN ASHER

Fashion illustration is "Chick's" ambition at college. Art interested her along with Spanish Club activities.

CALVIN ASHFORD

Cal goes out into the world to work after graduation. While here he has been soaking up industrial art.

CHARLES E. COX

This lanky Delos is heading for the Army Air Force; he takes journalism and chemistry.

ROBERT M. CRANDELL

"Join the Navy and get at those Japs"—that's Bob's ambition at present. He is a Latin Club member.

WILLIAM EDWARD CRANE

This "Roman" aspires to go to Annapolis and be a naval officer, possibly an engineer. Ed was Hi-Y vice-prexy.

DEAN CRAWFORD

To see the world, from the Pacific to the Atlantic, plus some Japs or Nazis, is Dean's ambition, in the Navy.

MAX R. CROWDER

Supporting the industrial part of America is Max's chief interest in the future when he hopes to become a machinist.

MARJORIE CRUMP

Marjorie's thoughts are leaning towards that secretarial job with a high wage involved, at present.

THERESA M. CRUZE

Terry, now taking a course in office training, plans to attend Junior College here.

JOSEPH CULLEN

Varsity swimming man, Joe is enlisted in the Air Corps Reserve already. Civil engineering holds his interest.

DAPHNE LUCILLE CULVER

"New York calling Santa Ana 317. Here is your party," Daphne may sing if Douglas doesn't get this Lyric machine-operator.

ROSE CECELIA CURLEY

Rosie can't quite decide but may be a commercial devotee at our little red Jaysee.

ELDON S. DAVENPORT

"Hep! One, two, three —!" Al will find Army drilling all the easier after marching with the band at S.A.H.S.

MARY LOUISE
DANIELSON

Prospective landscape architect, Mary is Honor Society president, office-holding in C.A.F. and Alphas.

WILMA

Wilma's future college hopes are uncertain, but she is prepared for commercial employment.

EILEEN
DAVIS

Art Club vice-president Jo will add beauty to the world in the form of permanents and facials—maybe a novel or two.

MARION
DAVIS

When your offspring catch the measles, Dr. Davis will be glad to diagnose and prescribe—for a small fee.

JAMES L.
DAVY

Student Body prexy longs to be a diplomat or journalist. Now is C.A.F. president, Boys' Athletic Commissioner also.

ROBERT
DAY

Off Bob goes, into the sky blue yonder! After the war he may be found coaching football teams to victory.

NORMA JANET DENNER

Norma's Santa Ana High School commercial course probably will help her to hold down that job she's going to get.

PATRICIA
DESMOND

Musical Desmond is now generalizing in preparation for higher learning; she wants to be a medicine-man.

MARY JO
DEVENNEY

Jo's burning ambition is to go to J.C., while her sparkle brightens Spanish and Drama Clubs here at high school.

NOAH
DICKERSON JR.

Having followed a general course, Noah plans to work in the aircraft industry following his graduation in June.

CELIA BOYDEN
DIXON

Beta Phi Delta president and French and Latin Club member, Celia's next stop will be college.

MARY EVELYN DORMAN

"Take a letter, Miss Dorman" will be a constant theme in Mary's ears in the coming years when she becomes a secretary.

MELVIN DOSS

Dossy the Delos is going to dismay Hitler with his Douglas dive-bombers, if the Army doesn't get him, too.

BOB DROWN

Bob Drown, letterman, Lyric songbird, likes railroad work. If the service calls, he prefers the army or navy.

ROXANA
DUGAN

Nurse's training for Roxie, of Latin, Drama, and science—then the Waves, if they're still waving.

LOUISE MARGARET
DURAN

Spanish Club entertains Louise. She will make airplanes or bombs "Special to Hitler."

PAUL
DURON

Chemical engineering draws Paul's interest; the U.S. Army will probably win out instead.

DAVID
EARLE

The hot breath of the draft board is on Red's neck. This gridster survived a liberal arts course.

ROSALIE JEAN EAREL

This ex-Student Relation enjoys G.A.A. and Zeta T frolics—she's off for some hall of learning.

BARBARA ELAINE
ELLIOTT

Barbara, whose specialties are commerce and languages, will make an efficient stenographer to some lucky boss.

EDWARD L.
ELLIOTT

Regardless of our foreign policy, Eddie is driving for a doctor's degree—or scientific labs.

ORIO
ELLIOTT

Orio will dispense reading, writing, and arithmetic after jaysee and university training. A Spanish Club member.

LaDONNA EMMETT

To make an employer keep his appointments and write his letters is La Donna's ambition—after she gets her B.A.

GEORGE ENDRES

Three striper George, Sigma, will divide his college time between writing and agriculture.

ELAINE ENGEN

Elaine will encounter counter espionage and track down spies via the F.B.I., after June and more "commercing."

DORIS ERWIN

A Beta Tau president following a commercial course, Doris plans to keep house or travel after graduating in June.

EVELYN ESTES

"The gal behind the man behind the gun" is Evelyn. This Honor Society member will go to work in the war plants.

FLORENCE FAINBARG

Junior College and university for Flossie post graduation. While here, G.A.A., Spanish and Drama kept her busy.

MAXINE MARIE
FARRELL

Macky will pound a typewriter for a living after school is out, if she doesn't go to jaysee for more practice.

HOMER M.
FARREN

Glee Club vocalist Farren likes math enough to continue his machine shop work after graduation.

EDMUND CHARLES FENSTAD

Chemistry Club prexy Ed heads for college for engineering. This camera clicker finds time for varsity swimming.

LAVONNE FINNEY

BETTY LOU FISHER

Ambitious Betty looks forward to the career of a working girl when she completes her business studies.

ISABEL R.
FLORES

When Commerce Club, Spanish Club, and G.A.A. days are over, Isabel, known as "Chab" to her friends, will work.

DOROTHY LEE FOUST

Dorothy Lee, "Miss Riveter" of tomorrow, takes typing, shorthand, and whatnot in her commercial course.

JEAN M.
FRANCIS

A career girl after courses at Bucknell. Being vice-president of Honor Society and Cosmos takes up her time.

JOHN C.
FRANCIS

Self-Government chairman, Philos president, and captain of football team, Johnny will be a soldier-flyer.

MARION W.
FRANCIS

"Eminent creative writer" Marion enjoys Cosmos, Girl's League Cabinet, Latin Club. She leaves for college in September.

EDNA C.
FRANKE

"Shorty" Franke will add her flying fingers to the war effort as a typist. Luck to you, "Shorty!"

JOHN TOM FRANKLIN

Tom, a Delos, is a snappy student in Spanish, but puts his best into math and sciences.

MARJORIE LUCILLE FRYATT

School and more school for Margie! She's in Lyric and Latin Clubs, taking college requirements, and will go to J.C.

MAVIS TETER

After trying Nebraska and Tustin, Mavis, a commerce student, winds up in good old Santa Ana.

KENNETH LOUIS GABRIEL

What a lawyer "Gabby" will make! As shutterbug prexy, this second Henry Clay was head of the Ariel Photo staff.

MARIJEAN GALBRAITH

Gertie, another little quakeress with her hymn book upside down, says she will enter designing.

MANUEL GARCIA JR.

Uncle Sam is going to have a crack basketball player fighting for him soon. The army is Manuel's destination.

DOROTHY GARNER

Dottie is going job-seeking after graduation. She isn't sure of her field yet, but we're sure she'll succeed.

JACQUELYN GEHRIG

Jackie's taken Latin just for Commerce's sake. When she goes to work knowledge she will take.

WILLIAM A.
GEORGE

Phenomenon of the tennis courts, expert of the science lab—Bill's going to law school, too.

WILLIAM STEWART GIBSON

Trackman, Sigma, "Strat" vows that following the war you'll find him with his feet back under a desk at college.

MARY DOLORES ZAMORA

Dolores plans to practice up at Johnson's Business College before braving the cold, cold world.

MARCIA M.
GELDELT

Sizzling steaks and tasty cakes will replace French Club when Marc begins her Navy dietician's college study.

GLORIA GOLDEN

Broadway will have quite an actress when it obtains "Little Chum," Drama Club president, after she finishes college.

FLOYD STERLING GORDON

Cosmos president; Honor Society vice-president; this Delos, secretary-treasurer of the class, anticipates engineering or law.

MILTON FRANKLIN GRAY JR.

Tennis team and Chemistry Club member on the side, this future aeronautical engineer may design your plane of 1960.

ELDR A JEAN GRIFFITH

Armed with diploma and commerce training, Jean "Red" Griffith is off for a career before J.C.

RAY GULLEDGE

The Navy appealed to Ray in January—he's probably washing decks now.

MILDRED DORIS GUSS

"Midge" Guss aspires to be one of those A-1 secretaries that the commercial course has prepared her for.

DIXON M.
GUTHRIE

It's a rocky road ahead for Dick—this Tuxis and Latin Club member intends to be a geologist!

MARIAN GWINN

Marian is from "Ioway, where the tall corn grows," also where she held class offices. Work, then college, is next.

LILLIAN HAGBO

"Hagbo" to the Army Air Base will go. There she will take shorthand and maybe catch a beau!

AUDREY HALDERMAN

Audy's choice is stenography—following her commercial course at our fair institution of learning.

CHRISTINE HANSEN

Zeta "T-ina" will surprise the Student Relations and inspire the younger generation by teaching English.

ROBERT T.
HARBAUGH

College engineering for Drama Club vice-president Bob, chairman of Self-Government Committee, also in Cosmos and C.A.F.

MARY HARDING

HAZEL MAE HEASTON

Marching in red and white with the drill team, Hazel declares she will go to work when Junes comes 'round.

JAMES E.
HEIM

A general course with accent on mathematics was Jim's choice. He will be another of Uncle Sam's boys.

MAURICE EUGENE HEINLY

The army or engineering loom ahead for Sigma's "Gene." This Latin Club member waded through a math course.

HELEN KAY
HUMPHREY

Singing and playing (her violin) through Berkeley, Junior will remember language clubs, presidency of orchestra.

JEANNE PATRICIA HENDRIE

"Little Chum" Hendrie will go to J.C. and Santa Barbara State and he—you guessed it—a kindergarten teacher.

ESTHER
HERMAN

When the time comes for Esther to "go out into the cold world," she will be well prepared by her commerce course.

JOSEPHINE
HERNANDEZ

Department store work will keep Drill Teamer and Spanish Club member Jo occupied after school.

JULIA
HERREN

Douglas bound Julie, Drama inclined, can whip up cream puffs for even a "gob."

BETTIE JANE
HERRIN

Two more Junes will see this Beta Phi Delta beaming from the Pasadena Playhouse stage, she hopes.

Junior Class

Although the war has been the primary consideration during the past year, the Junior Class has endeavored to carry on in a normal way. Every phase of school life has been participated in by the Juniors. The class has made a creditable record in all school activities—contributing greatly in scholarship, in social activities, and in athletics. Under the capable leadership of the class officers, Pat Maloney, president; Don Magneson, vice-president; and Peggy Klever, secretary; the Senior Prom which is sponsored each year by the Junior Class was deemed a success.

The Juniors were particularly active in school war work. Many of this class helped when the farm labor shortage became critical, and they bought their share of war bonds too. All in all, this has been a very successful year for the Junior Class.

President Pat Maloney

Sophomore Class

Acting as a part of the regular unit of this year's high school, the Sophomore class participated to the utmost in both school and war time activities.

Being ushered in at the first of the year with a series of welcome assemblies, the Sophomores soon overcame the "green horn" stage and began to fit into the regular life of school activities, plus the new programs which were a part of the war effort.

With all activities open to the youngest class, it soon took advantage of the dances, parties, service clubs, after school sports, and other non-curricular activities of the school. After the election of Sophomore officials, the class quickly set up their own self-governing system following the example set by the Senior governing board.

Connie Cole, Vice-president; Miss Levenia Scott, Adviser; Shirley Arterburn, Secretary.

President Tommy Andrew

The realistic spirit of the students of Santa Ana High School is accurately shown by the working of the organizations toward the speedy and successful culmination of today's world chaos. Certain of the clubs have engineered salvage drives, others have bought large denomination bonds. Some have put on benefit performances so that funds raised could be used by men in the armed forces. Many of the organizations purchased flags for the colorful United Nations array in the foyer. All in all, Sammy Saint can say, "I'm doing my part."

ORGANIZATIONS

First row: Blee, Urquiza, Tapscott, Simmons, Hamilton, Mrs. A. Thomas.
Second row: Tiernan, Harris, Kiser, Danielson, Munson, Wright, McBurney, Stevens, Kenyon.

Alphas

Selling candy at the mid year play to swell the all-club fund for a record player, for the Lighter - Than - Air Base, was one of the outstanding activities of the Alpha Club. At Easter they presented small gifts for the Children's Ward of the Orange County Hospital. The Alpha award to the most representative senior girl and boy was presented at senior graduation.

Adelphians

Making stuffed animal toys for small children in the Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Los Angeles was one of the worthwhile projects of the Adelpian Club this year. The atmosphere of Color Day was enhanced by the small red and white lapel pins, decorated with the beaming face of the school emblem, Sammy Saint.

First row: H. Humphrey, M. Upchurch, P. Johnson. Second row: A. Boswell, J. Wolters, D. Rosemeyer, L. Fink, P. Boswell. Third row: F. Deer, Miss Lawell, C. Flanagan, E. Smeykal, G. Thomas, R. Meric, H. Nahlinger, V. Williams.

Girl Reserves

Some soldier at any of the many army camps would certainly appreciate a few hours of entertaining reading. With this in mind the Beta Tau's made scrapbooks filled with nonsense, and stories for the U. S. O. to send to army camps. The club observed World Friendship Week with all other Girl Reserve organizations.

First row: M. Tozier, B. Warren, D. Arnett, B. Heaston, M. Whitton, C. Hill, M. Young, M. Corbin. Second row: G. Popoff, T. Cruz, G. Kinzey, Mrs. Tozier, adviser, A. Fowler. Third row: M. Cruz, G. Contreras, P. Frisbie, J. Wade, R. Franklin.

First row: J. Kenyon, V. Graves, C. Arnold, C. Dixon, E. Vite, I. Lund, J. Beyhan, M. Raitt. Second row: L. Harding, R. Kern, B. Merget, C. Matics, A. Paterson, J. Taraldson, Miss Safley, M. Casteix, C. Davis, B. Herren, E. Brown, M. Davis B. Russell, M. Geldert.

Beta Phi Delta

An active club in school this year, the Beta Phi Deltas purchased War Stamps in the name of Santa Ana High, and they filled U. S. O. scrapbooks with jokes, stories, articles, and other interesting material for military outposts. They made candy and cookies for the mobile canteen, and raised money to buy a War Bond.

Entre Nous

The Entre Nous opened the school year with their traditional tea for the new girls and sophomores. The organization, instead of giving a Christmas tree to the school, donated the money which would have been spent for recreation at the Norco Naval Hospital. Besides helping with the gas rationing, and selling pom poms at the football games.

First row: M. Coombs, C. Morrison, C. Spicer, J. Krause, B. Gisler, Mrs. M. Burns, adviser; C. Telef, J. Winbigler, R. Lauderbach, D. Sullivan, B. Watson. Second row: B. McFadden, J. Harris, P. Crowell, P. Was, M. Underwood, P. Tapscott, P. Wright, M. Crane. Third row: S. Edgar, H. Blee, R. McBurney, J. Elliott, R. Stevens, L. Davy.

Wi Tama Pi

The Wi Tama Pi offered their services to relieve the farm labor shortage in the harvesting of crops. Besides this fine activity they bought the flag of Netherlands with the Entre Nous, adding it to the Allied flags in the foyer as a stirring symbol of victory. In the spring they sponsored the Senior Tea which was eagerly looked forward to by the Seniors.

First row: W. Keenan, J. Munson, C. Hansen, B. Welsh. Second row: Miss Bellinger, D. Holman, P. Klever, M. Ball, K. Tiernan, D. Durbin, P. Hunter, E. Arnold. Third row: W. Hubbard, G. Kiser, L. Bradley, M. Liversage. Standing: D. Buskirk, B. Main, L. Brickley, B. Buckley. Back row: I. Iverson, V. Allen, M. Friend, M. Cochran.

Delos

With promoting the interest of the students as their theme, the Delos Club enjoyed one of the most active schedules of any club. They concentrated their efforts on the sale of rooters caps to all loyal "Saints," assisting with the Harvest Ball decorations, and helping at the noon dances.

First row: D. Hildebrand, B. Harwood, R. Brown, R. Carrillo, P. Witmer, H. McGee. Second row: Mr. White, V. Lauderbach, B. Crooks, B. Williams, J. Dickson, S. Warner, J. Weaver. Third row: T. Franklin, B. Golden, M. Doss, D. Nelson, C. Cox, B. Reed.

First row: G. Popoff, J. Hossfield, A. Cox, M. Hillyard, B. Montgomery, J. Mason, M. Borkenhagen, P. Primrose, D. Hamilton, M. Kelly, B. Simmons. Middle: Vera McVey. Second row: E. Wilde, R. Earel, B. Brooks, B. Sell, L. Lusk, B. Thompson, D. Sell, F. Dannenbring, S. Hillyard, B. May, R. Brown, Mrs. M. Householder, adviser.

Zeta T

The Zeta T terminated a successful year with many worthwhile activities. The year was begun with the annual New Student Party in conjunction with the Philos.

Following this successful venture, they sold pencils which had complete basketball schedules on them. Also at basketball games they sold apples. The money from these activities went towards the war.

Owls

When a call was made for the donation of flags by the different organizations, the Owls responded and voted the flag of Norway to the school. Added to a full year of activities were several assembly skits and the "Basketbrawl," to raise funds for the Armed forces.

A formal initiation for all pledges was held.

Philos

Another traditionally Philos year was spotlighted by outstanding achievement, in war service, scholastically, and in school affairs. A splendid service was achieved when each member donated to the Red Cross Blood Bank. This fine organization sponsored one of the outstanding features of the year, the "Basketbrawl," to raise funds for recreational facilities for service men.

First row: Crawford, Griggs, Power, Duffy, Carmichael. Second row: Andrew, Corey, Walker, Hill, Maloney. Third row: Christ, Ivester, Bressler, Childs, Maties, Nau, Wilson, Bell, Lowe, Beisser.

Sigmas

Following the Sigma tradition, the boys wound up the school year after a continuous series of activities. Together with the Owls and the Entre Nous, they were responsible for the uniquely decorated Christmas Dance. Their part in the school war effort was played, adding another United Nations flag to the colorful collection in the foyer.

First row: Hansen, Berry, Schlegel, Turner. Second row: Luhman, Davis, Martin, Honer, Dennis, Mercier, Heiny, Winters. Third row: G. Corey, Holman, Jacobs, Segerstrom, Gibson. Fourth row: Mr. Johnson, adviser. Reid, Wilde, Tibbs, S. Corey, Endres, Schroeder.

Lettermen

Opening its membership roles to all lettermen, this club again proved its worth to the school. Acting as guards throughout the basketball season was one of many services rendered. Proving their efficiency in the line of national defense as well as on the field, the boys volunteered as school air raid wardens. Despite the difficulties encountered they had a football banquet.

First row: M. Danielson, P. Tapscott, E. Davis, B. McAndrew, J. Krause, B. Williams. Second row: R. Stevens, J. Sewell, Mrs. Melka, W. Sorensen.

Art Club

One of the most interesting clubs in the school is the Art Club, for they have had the privilege of taking various trips and outings. Scenic views taken by Mrs. Katherine Melka, club adviser, of her trip to Hawaii, were shown at one of the meetings. The club members met personally the famous artist William Wendt and were privileged to see a large exhibit of his paintings. A tour of the Laguna Art Gallery was a highpoint in the year. As a patriotic gesture, Christmas decorations were supplied for the Army Hospital.

Biology Club

First row: Schultz, Tallon. Second row: Sims, Ross, Golden, Safler, Davis, Shafer. Third row: Miss McFadden, Morrison, B. McMadden, Cook, Sherwin, M. McFadden, Franklin, Ross Baker, Lane, Witmer.

The members of the Biology Club will certainly not feel the lack of vegetables this year, for the main project of the club was to plant a victory garden at the home of each member. It seemed for a while this year that "Oscar," the club's mascot, would remain in rest in the closet of the Biology room; but soon the Biology Club reorganized and decided to stay together. The purpose of this club is to promote further interest in Biology for students who are interested.

Current Affairs Forum

With the entire world engaged in a gigantic struggle, the Current Affairs Forum found many vital and interesting topics to discuss. Among them were: Can Japan be Reeducated?, After the War, What?, and The National Debt.

One outstanding event was a joint meeting held with the Cosmopolitans, during which an attorney was guest speaker. His topic was both timely and informative.

Cosmopolitan Club

"Keeping in tune with the times" was the motto of the Cosmopolitan Club this year. They selected as their yearly topic, The Prime Interest Points of the World, and enjoyed panels, short lectures, and motion-pictures on such subjects as the Near East, the Far East, Latin America, and the South Pacific. The organization was slightly handicapped because there remained just four former members; however the club managed to climax the year as always with a gay social party.

First row: Knipe, Maser, Francis, Bradford, Stevens, Tiernan, Gordon, Beisser, Luers, Nielsen. Second row: Urquiza, Standing, Danielson, Clyde D. Cook, adviser, Miller, Michaels, Harbaugh.

Engineers

This club was reorganized this year under the advisership of John Christ, physics instructor. It was opened to all students majoring in science and who planned to make the field of science their career. During the year the club undertook projects in both construction and experimentation. Among the fields that were covered were mechanics, electricity and heat.

Chemistry Club

To connect daily life to chemistry was the purpose of the Chemistry Club. This club was just organized this year under the directorship of Mrs. Anne Thomas. The club did some interesting work on chemical gardening, and had a great deal of fun dissecting the various standardized cosmetics which are on the market.

Honor Society

Doing their bit to help in the war effort this year, the Honor Society and Roll took as their main project The Sammy Saint Mailbox. It consisted of writing letters to the boys in the armed forces who had formerly been students of Santa Ana High.

First row: M. Urquiza, L. Bogardus, E. Davis. Second row: I. Iverson, M. Danielson, A. Walden, M. Tullius, J. Francis. Third row: Tyrell, Bernstein, W. Keenan, M. George, Gordon, C. Maser. Fourth row: A. Cox, E. Estes, D. Nielsen, B. Markwood, T. Ragan, V. Stearns, N. Standing. Fifth row: A. Beisser, Miss Blythe, R. Stevens, D. Schroeder, B. Markel, P. Walden, C. Forbes, W. Hill, R. Hansen.

First row: V. Harter, P. Tapscott, K. Stern. Second row: K. Luers, M. Liversage, S. Anderson, Blythe, M. Casteix, C. Halsell, R. Silber. Third row: J. Dickson, K. Walker, J. Sherwin, D. Cook, J. Lawrence, P. Maloney, R. Carrillo.

Honor Roll

The society had only one ditch day this year, due to the crowded schedule at school, but a full day of rest and relaxation was enjoyed by all. Owing to the war-time conditions, the group was not able to hold the Southern Regional Convention which would have been held in the spring.

Commerce Club

Members of the Commerce Club had the honor of giving the most outstanding contribution of the year to the war effort. Hours were devoted by the club to the tremendously successful sale of United States War Bonds and Stamps. Not content with this achievement, they were kept busy throughout the term preparing a commerce yearbook.

First row: K. Gabriel, R. Miller, T. Parker, Mr. Newcomer. Second row: C. Arnold, R. Phillips, D. Erwin, C. Hill, K. Kinnear, J. Mosher, C. Davis, V. McCament, M. Fromm, N. Fromm, N. Ashby, N. Deardorff. Third row: B. Underwood, C. Wray, W. Sims, P. Howland, P. Brown, L. Fink, M. Jordan, B. Elliott, C. Baker, F. Bottorff, B. Loy. Fourth row: Mrs. Sorden, Miss Lawell, L. Jones, L. Brickey, B. Buckley, L. Finney, I. Flores, W. Keenan, E. DuRall, B. Webb, J. Hauck, G. Golden.

French Club

Aiding the war effort, members of the French Club, by voluntary subscriptions, sold War Bonds and Stamps in the downtown district of Santa Ana. Also, the club purchased a flag to be placed in the group of twenty-eight Allied flags which are in the foyer. The annual initiation of their new members was held in March in the Hut.

Editors

The successful culmination of a year's tribulations was recorded by the Saint yearbook, the Ariel. The united efforts of the three staffs, the literary, the art, the business, carried the Ariel through to completion. Wartime shortages threatened to stop the book several times, but the staffs carried on despite these problems.

Much of the credit for the success of the Ariel belongs to these students, whose executive ability made it a book of which all Sammys and Sallys can be proud.

Art Staff

The important task of planning the layout and making the Ariel an artistic success was ably administered by the Art Staff, under the talented leadership of Ruth Joyce Stevens. Many hours of diligent work were spent arranging pages, planning background, discussing suitable covers, and doing all the many jobs that must be accomplished in order to make this year's Ariel outstanding in design and quality. Mrs. Katherine Melka was staff adviser.

First row: Sorenson, Krause, Whitson, Sewell, Tapscott, Mrs. Katherine Melka, adviser; Bradford, Stevens.

Literary Staff

The responsibility of writing all the copy, correcting grammatical mistakes, identifying pictures, and revising sentences is but a small part of the work accomplished by the Ariel Literary Staff. Their creative ability was particularly emphasized this year in the clever construction of sentences used under the senior pictures. Picas, caps, ems, and other such technical terms became a part of the vocabulary of these diligent workers.

Business Staff

The important job of promoting and selling the Ariel to the student body is one of the many tasks handled by the Business Staff. Under the leadership of Roger Anderson and Mr. Milton V. Newcomer, the staff's adviser, the members efficiently sold and distributed the books among the students.

Football games, dances, color day assemblies, picnics, attracted the attention of the staff in obtaining snapshots.

First row: Ted Parker, Shirley Edgar, Milton Newcomer, adviser, Roger Anderson, Wendell Losh.
Second row: Wayne Tibbs, Ed Fenstad, Kenneth Gabriel, Robert Miller.

Generator Staff

The War came to the Generator this year. The whole school supported their attempt to have an airplane named "Sammy Saint." Letters were written and replies received. A new column, On the Firing Line, brought information about the Saint graduates in the services of our country. Also, linked with the Honor Society, the Generator staff published the addresses of fighting Sammies to be written to by you and me.

Corresponding to war ideas, the staff studied propaganda, and even employed it in their publication. The face of the Generator changed. New ideas and hard work were combined to make the Generator better than ever. Heading the staff was efficient Clark Maser. Late hours and scarce cokes are reminders of hectic dead line hours.

First row: S. Knipe, J. Francis, K. Stern, B. Millis, C. Maser, P. Baker, M. Urquiza, E. Busby, J. Parman. Second row: L. Long, C. Shafer, M. Bird, D. Briner, N. Standring. Third row: K. Gabriel, J. Davy, K. Walker, T. Sheehan, B. Power, C. Cox, M. Weinberg, M. Miner, J. H. Duke, adviser, I. Williams, M. Harding.

Print Shop

Essential is the word for the print shop. From it comes our daily announcements, the weekly Generator, and the Ariel. The staff labors practically unknown, except to those who hear the rattling of the linotype machines and the clanking of the presses.

The important head man of the print shop is Mr. Willard E. Francis; he is ably assisted by Mr. Arthur Hull and Mrs. Gilbert Martien.

Usherettes

Courteous and efficient in their red and white uniforms, the usherettes brought due recognition to the school for their fine work.

Under the able directorship of Mr. Howard B. Youel, this select group ushered for such outside features as the Orange County Concert Series, the Cantando Club, and the Junior College Commencement.

First row: C. Halsell, P. Tapscott, J. Robinson, S. Knipe, V. Harter, N. Standring. Second row: D. Briner, W. Parsons, B. Merget, P. Klever, C. Morrison, R. Atkinson. Third row: H. Blee, M. Bird, K. Tiernan, B. McFadden, C. Spicer, M. Danielson, J. Krause, R. McBurney, head usherette, M. Harding.

Kalendar

It is October 5, the first day of school, and the dolls and guys are gabbing about all the sawbucks they earn this last summer, and about how they blow it all away already.

Running through the crowds in the foyer is Holly, who is a very busy doll as usual, and someone asks, "What are you up to, Holly?"

It seems that something is doing this afternoon in the Hut for the green little dolls who wear the cap of "sophomores" around and about school, and Holly is beginning to worry whether or not all the big sisters know what they are supposed to do.

Joy tells her everything will be all right and pats her on the back, as both of them dash on to their first period.

A few days later everyone is at the Municipal Bowl, which is an old reservoir where all the guys play football now. Our rough necks play a bunch from Newport Harbor who are not so much except for one burly bum, whose name is Hal Sheflin; but our guys take pretty good care of him except for once; so the papers next day say, Tars 7, Saints 0.

The next week our rowdies have a riot with the Riverside Bears, which ends up in a couple of foul "gooseeggs" which is maybe because Saints and Bears never do have anything in common, which is too bad all around.

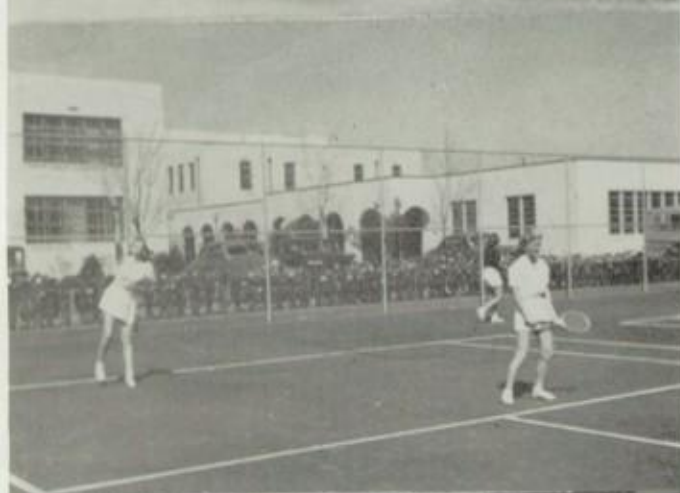

This same day Dick is seen around and about in the halls looking very happy. "What goes, Dick?" He says he hears that some guys are going to feed him hay after school because he is the dark horse in the senior class elections, and he thinks this is very funny.

Another guy who is happy is Pat, the new junior class president, because Peggy Klever, who is a cute little doll, is the new secretary; and well, anyone who is in Miss Frazier's trig class will tell that two and two still make four.

"It's a put-up job," growls Johnny, as he dusts off his halo. It all happens when our fighting Saints fly into the Devils on Friday, the 13, at the Bowl.

Everything is off to a lucky start, what with all the guys and dolls in blinding red and white Color Day duds, which makes them look like steady boarders from the home in Norwalk, especially those that get prizes in assembly this morning.

What makes Johnny and the boys mad is that those Pomona imps take six lessons from their Uncle Satan, and are out to jinx our gang. They laugh up their forked-tails until we grab 13 points; then they begin their dirty work and make 13 points and because "they can't go under the goal, and they can't go over it, and they can't go around it," again, they just hold the ball, which ties up the game, 13 to 13. "They really foil us," says Johnny.

Santa Ana 13, Orange 0.

Our rugged pigskinners get out of the gutter and into the groove and bash Orange's head in.

The guys jilt their razors and the dolls break up with their curlers for the big date, the Harvest Ball, which means bushy beards and long pigtails, which adds up to country-hick styles in levis, plaid shirts, gingham, pumpkins, and cornstalks.

Professors unpack their revolvers and twirl knives in the best pachuco manner; and lie in wait in shadowy halls in the imagination of all the guys and dolls, which means that the teachers are out to get 'em, which is not so good for anyone, especially this exam week.

The drama class really puts on the dog for the Christmas assembly. Ralph snorts, "Bah, humbug!", John pipes off with "Merry Christmas," and Don rattles his chains to pack a wallop into "A Christmas Carol."

Then, happy day, everyone is as free as the little birdies in the trees for whole week of Christmas vacation, and most of the gang is out on good behavior, this being the first parole in a long time.

That night, the guys and gals hop into some civilized duds, and hoof it to the Masonic Temple for the Owl-Sigma Christmas Dance.

Our rowdy hoopsters tear into the Southern Counties Tournament at Huntington Beach; and are not impressed by the big title because they shoot the hoops for to shatter all the other mugs' dreams and grab the crown, being bored with their usual halos.

The kids take the air from school again and go coke and gum-hunting for a day on New Year's.

It seems that nothing exciting ever happens at election time, but this year everyone is given the double cross because Jim prints a paper and gets a party, Stan leads a band, and Johnny mans a loudspeaker, Terry raves, Kenny rants, Arnold screams, in short the riot squad and the Black Maria is almost called out.

Jim's Student Party shoves him through the finals along with a couple of other dolls, and the guys and dolls "X" their ballots for Jim. The whole deal puts spirit right on the Saint map.

The guys and dolls get nervous, touchy, argue about java and aspirins, a mere glance from a teacher make their knees knock—that's semester exams.

Then they're turned loose for Lincoln's birthday, praising Allah that Honest Abe is such a well-known character.

The little boy who whacked his father's cherry tree is always a big hit with the guys and dolls but for sure this year, when they scatter around and about school for a day.

To clear the boredom in the air, the guys and gals put on a couple of talent shows and amuse the rest of the kids no end. Especially one of the skits, which Kenny, Johnny, Marty, and Walter cook up. Walter's quip about his dead wife sends the guys and gals into side-aching hysterics.

Sammy Saint takes to the air and does some mighty high flying. This all comes off when the kids on the Generator and Victory Corps go all out for war bonds to buy a "Sammy Saint" bomber. The little angel face kid is pasted on a $175,000 bomber and roars off to knock the Axis for a loop.

Before all this happens, though, Kathryn writes to Lieutenant Carl Aubrey and ropes him into naming his fighter plane Sammy too. So right away Hitler and his playmates begin to see double trouble ahead.

The guys on the B track team slug Mercury on the bean and steal his wings, so they can tear around the old horseshoe and grab the Sunset League crown for the empty space in the trophy case.

The dolls have their annual cut-up in the Co-ed dance which is when they snatch the guys off to dance and an evening after which they are as the butterflies on the wing for Easter vacation of one day.

Then they turn sissies and drip all over themselves at baccalaureate and commencement when they think that they will not see the same guys or other things again around and about, and that they are shoving off into the world, but then they think that maybe it is not too bad after all, and the whole deal is bittersweet.

ATHLETICS

Varsity Football

Rocking the solid timbers of the Municipal Bowl with enthusiastic applause, cheers, and gesticulations, the Sammy Saint rooting section urged their '43 football squad on to unexpected heights. A war emergency free lance schedule favored jovial Bill Cole's proteges with games against some of Southern California's top prep teams. They outplayed every one of their five opponents and mustered a grand total of 1043 yards gained—head and shoulders above that of any opposing school.

CIF championship contestant, Newport Harbor, downed the Saints 7-0 in the first game of the year, but failed to win on paper. Hal Sheflin's ram-like shoulders stopped Santa Ana on the goal line time and again. Encouraged by their exceptional showing against Newport, the Saints went on to reach a beautiful stalemate with Riverside at 0-0. The Bears were stubborn and the Saints, although more aggressive, were comparatively unimpressive.

The Pomona Red Devils, Citrus Belt League champs, were cooled 14-13 by Cole's string, and Orange Union High School dropped one to the locals 13-0.

All in all Santa Ana fielded a strong club with good developing material for 1943.

Second row: Reynolds, Graham, Truisher, Ball, Wood-ward, Luken, Schroeder. Fourth row: Tibbs, Action . . .

1942 football plans brought with them the most perplexing conglomeration of athletic problems ever before faced by the coaching staff and school administration. Government shutdowns on the sale of tires and gasoline netted the Saint Football team a comfortable position behind what is commonly known as the "tenacious eight-ball." Santa Ana necessarily withdrew from the Citrus Belt League and embarked upon a five game free-lance program. Under the circumstances, however, Coach Cole had plotted a well rounded schedule and certainly made the best of it.

In November, just before basketball season, Santa Ana hooked up with the Sunset League which resulted in bringing competition closer to home. Generally the negotiation met favorable criticism and promised better games for future Saint teams.

Junior Varsity

Sophomore Team

Varsity Basketball

Jovial Bill Cole's 1942-43 hardwood squad was certainly in tune with the sudden basketball impulse which, after a lapse of twenty seasons or so, came to life and poked Santa Ana's optimistic ball fan right between her big blue eyes.

Hard work and torrents of sweat made the Saints champs of the Huntington Beach Southern California Basketball Tournament and proved conclusively that they were among the strongest teams of the Sunset League. Rooters will remember the sensational game with Orange, defending league champions. A smothering barrage of Saint buckets cinched the game before half-time. The Saint sharpshooters were only stopped twice during the season. Long Beach Jordan edged out Cole's boys by one point in a game that was rougher than dish-water hands; and Fullerton, in the Sunset title game, caught the Saints sleeping 37-22.

Man to man, or team to team, there has probably never been a squad representing Santa Ana High School which compared with the stock of the 1943 roster. Individual and team prowess were unsurpassable. Their honors were as high as those of any Saint basketball team. One victory led to another until, ultimately, superiority was won.

Palak Bill Cole

First row: B. Duffy, J. Woodsmall, C. Cole, B. Power, D. Magneson. Second row: D. Givens, C. Palmer, L. Herren L. Nieblas, R. Duckett, M. Warren, Manager.

B Basketball

Bee basketball came into being in Saint athletics this year with the admission of Santa Ana into the Sunset League for the hardwood season. The "B" five succeeded the Sophomore team when Santa Ana withdrew from the C.B.L. because of transportation difficulties.

Thrillers every one were the games played by the '43 quintet. Always playing hard, determined basketball until the final gun barked, the little Saints showed their opponents that they were not to be trifled with. Competition was spirited and the "B" encounters were often more exciting than the varsity tilts.

In pre-league engagements the Bees were undefeated, smothering Tustin and Garden Grove twice, and Orange once. Entering league competition the team was not quite so successful, losing several ball games by narrow margins.

Opening the Sunset League, the little Saints met the Newport Harbor Bees in Andrews Gym, January 8. The Tars' fast break held the Saints at bay in the first half, and they trailed 21-18 at the half. Newport continued to hold the lead at the third period, 25-23, but could not keep the lead in the final quarter. Santa Ana tied the score 28-28 and won in the last 30 seconds when Cliff Cole sank a twenty-footer.

Varsity Baseball

Coach Russell Sullivan's '42 baseball crew plugged through a tough schedule and, covered with the grimy dust of Clayton field, succeeded in landing high in league ranks. Good material brought good results. Sparkling spirit, well-organized field unity—in fact, everything pointed toward the end of a rainbow when the local nine entered the Sunset League.

High school baseball was the sport hardest hit by the war. Baseballs were scarcer than rabbits' collar buttons and transportation means began to thin out seriously. "Sully's" Saints, however, were undaunted. They painstakingly kept each date and won for themselves new inimitable distinctions. Team spirit reached unparalleled heights, an achievement in high school baseball which can never be looked down upon. Spirit was strikingly evident, win or lose. Through that spirit they attained perfection in team competition, acting as a polished mechanical unit. Smoothness and pep were definitely chief prompters of the Saint offensive.

Good individuals and excellent team work added greatly to the ball club's 1942 victories.

Tennis

The strong arm of Santa Ana High School athletes is Coach Walter Egger's tennis line-up. While tennis never rates as a crowd drawing sport, it is still one of the Saint's habitually strong teams.

Individual prowess either spells team victory or defeat. This year's individuals are, as always, high above average. Arnold Beisser ranks as one of Southern California's highest touted players. His exceptional ability has bettered that of many of the widely renowned junior tennis stars. With Beisser comes Clark Maser and Sterling Gordon, hard working fellows with plenty of victories under their belts. Bob Carlson, Dave Nielsen, and Tom McLean are all veteran court men too.

The Sunset League offered the Saints heavy competition. The Saints handled themselves magnificently, however, and went on to successive victories. Santa Ana's best results, as usual, came not from league games, but from tournaments. Tournaments offered individual men chances to sell their goods. This year was no exception. Favorable results were plentiful.

As the Ariel went to press, the tennis squad entered the final round for the C. I. F. championship. The squad also won the Sunset League title.

Swimming

Sammy Saint took to the water again this year under the able direction of Coach John Johnson, who for the last three years has coached the red and white watermen to numerous victories. Regardless of the transportation difficulties the swimming team attempted to carry on as usual. The Saint swimmers competed in the Sunset League, meeting such teams as Fullerton, Huntington Beach, Anaheim, and Excelsior. They also placed at the State Meet, The Southern California Invitational, and various other Southern California swimming contests. It would be impossible to pick from this year's lettermen one who excelled more than his team mates. It took every member of the team working together as a unit for Santa Ana to be victorious. Hour after hour, rain or shine, the splashers put all they had into practice. To open the 1943 season, the entire squad enjoyed water polo, which proved to be a skillful as well as rough game. As usual numerous swimmers came home laden with gold, silver, and bronze medals; also several records were broken, giving next year's team something to shoot at. The thrills and heartbreaks of the past few months all go towards totaling a victorious war time swimming season.

Track

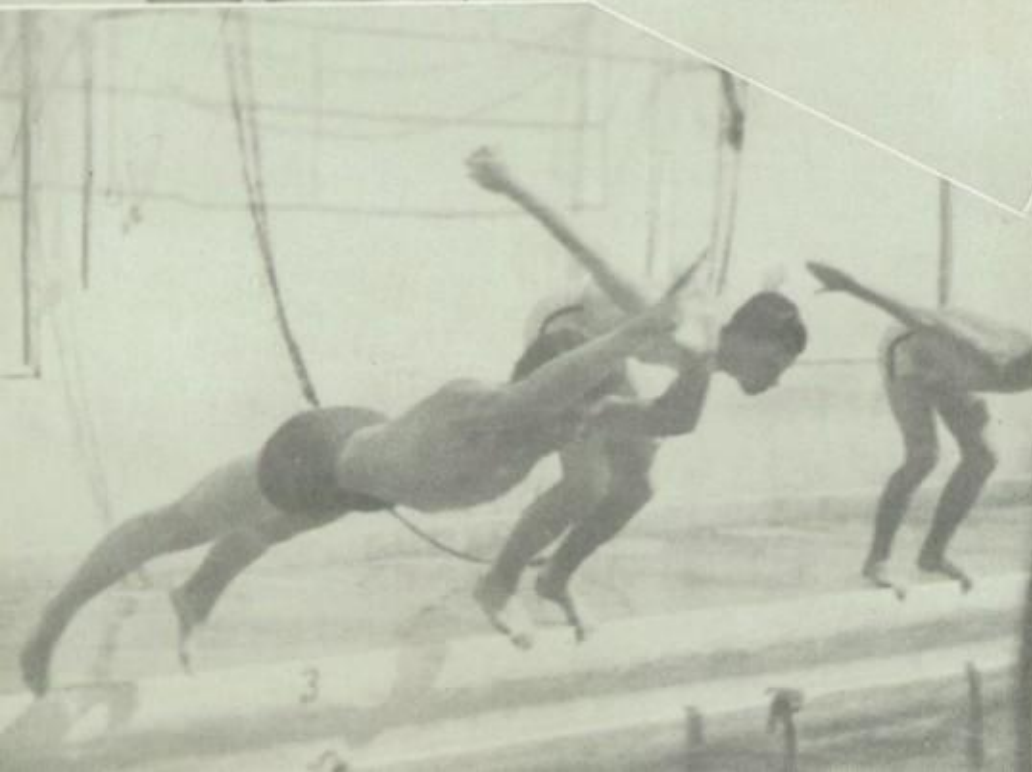

Perhaps the most dependable cog in the Santa Ana High School sport machine is Coach Reece "Pinky" Greene's championship track teams. The pre-season 1943 prospects were exceedingly bright. The team was potentially championship material. As a matter of fact, one more CBL championship would have given them the cup which is awarded to the school winning five league crowns.

At first there was considerable uncertainty as to which league the Saints would enter, the Citrus Belt or Sunset. By joining the Sunset League, Greene's boys planned to merely postpone their fifth CBL championship attempt until after the war. When the season actually rolled around, there were only a few hopes that they would return to the CBL.

In any man's league, however, the Santa Ana team stood as a threatening power. Their strength lay in balanced team perfection. There were few exceptional individuals, but each man was good for points.

Vivid spirit and well-balanced team ability led the Saints through another profitable track season. Flash: As the Ariel track copy was going to press, news was received that the "B" squad won first place in the Sunset League meet.

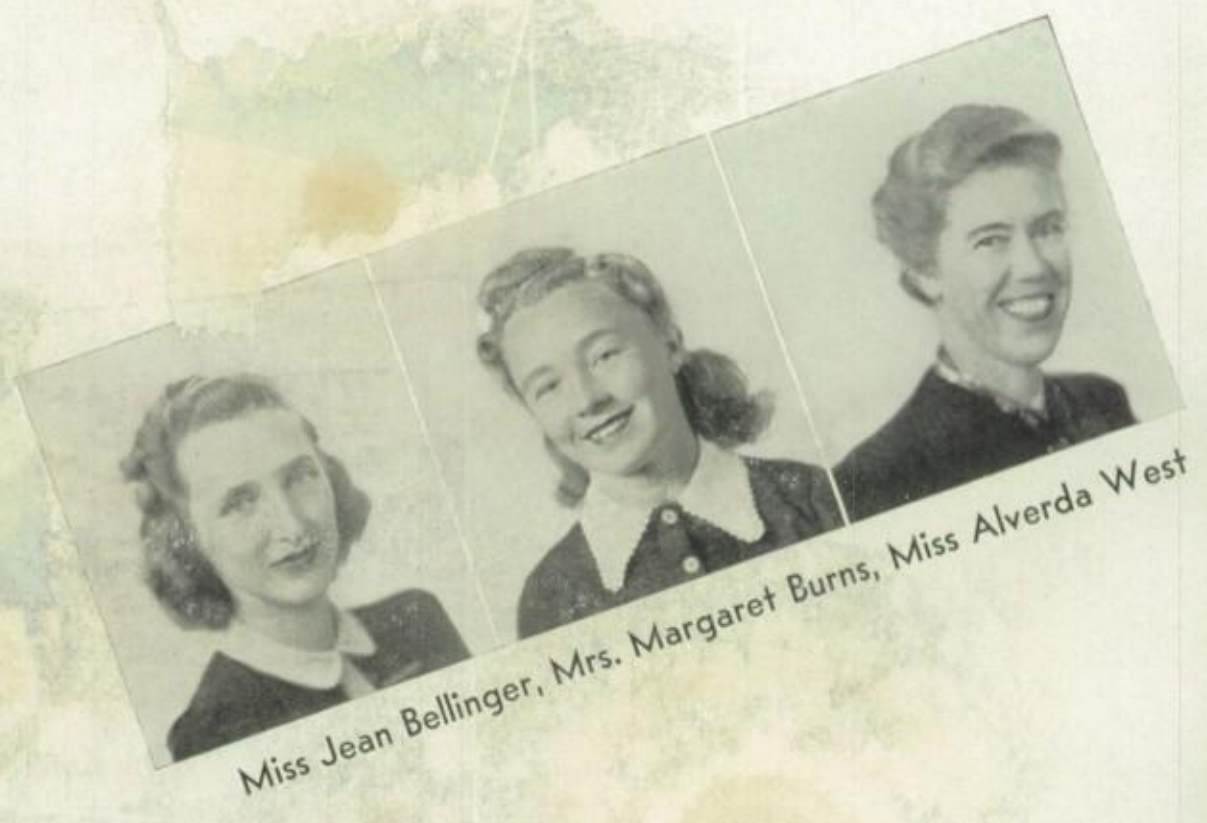

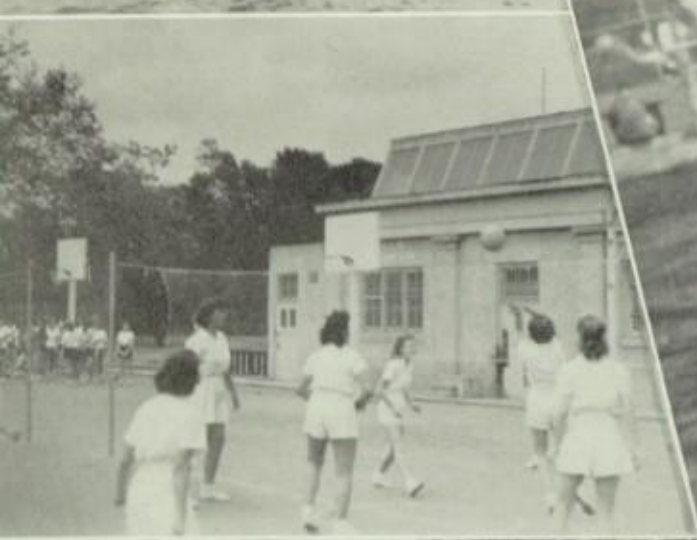

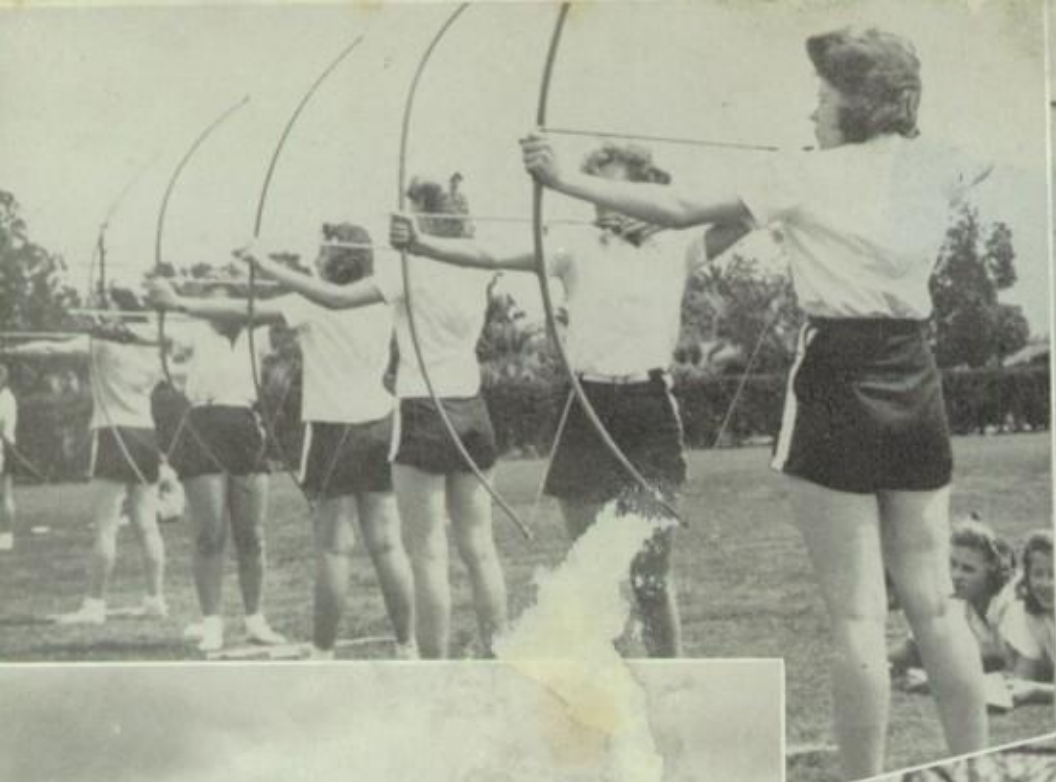

Girls' Athletic Association

Always promoting better group fellowship, the Girls' Athletic Association assisted immensely throughout the year by raising, socially and patriotically, athletic enthusiasm. Selling war stamps and bonds was once their chief contribution toward provoking unified patriotic spirit but they now make their contribution by assisting in involuntary, but significant campaigns, such as the sale of school colors at athletic events, and other significant activities. In short, the G.A.A. was prominent in countless activities, taking care to do its share, and to do it well on each occasion. Striving always to increase school spirit and the realization that athletics are the basis for enduring war health, the organization yearly expands in membership and in club solidarity.
